

Pollinators of Wisconsin

Photo by Kevin Schoessow

Goldenrod Soldier Beetle (Chauliognathus pensylvanicus)

- Yellow beetle with black spots on wing covers
- Feed on pollen and nectar of goldenrod and other late-season flowers
- Females lay eggs in cluster in the soil
- Larvae feed on eggs or larvae of other insects
- Harmless to plants and people

For more information

Extension
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON