

Pollinators of Wisconsin

Photos by Susan Mahr

White-lined Sphinx Moth (Hyles lineata)

- Migrates from southern locations in mid-May
- Tan forewings (2½-3½ in.) with bright reddish pink hindwings
- Hovering adults feed on bright colored scented flowers petunia, phlox, penstemon
- Green caterpillars with yellow and orange dots feed on a variety of plants
- Normally two generations occur per year in Wisconsin

Scan for more information:

Extension
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON